BOLD DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

THIEVES ROBBED A SMALL GRO-CERY STORE AT LOGANSPORT.

Forced to Drop Booty in Flight-Changes at State University-Small Strike at Vincennes-Minor News.

Epecial to the Indianapolis Journal. LOGANSPORT, Ind., July 11. - Another bold daylight hold-up was committed here this morning when, soon after 7 o'clock, two masked robbers entered the small grocery of Mrs. Eva Hammerly, on Seventeenth street, near the southern limits of the city, and after knocking the proprietor down escaped with the cash box, containing over $200, which the woman had been saving to pay a number of bills to-day. Mrs. Hammerly was in the rear room of the store when the robbers entered, and when one of them stepped behind the counter and seized the cash box from a shelf she made a rush toward him and received a severe blow on her breast from his fist. She staggered against a show case and in the struggle seized his mask and tore a portion of it from his face. She got a glimpse of his features, but not sufficient to recognize him. The robbers then took their heels, but the screams of Mrs. Hammerly aroused the neighborhood and women and children ran in pursuit of the one who had the cash box under his arm, and chased him through several fields. Finally, after he saw that Mrs. Ham-merly was gaining on him, he placed the box on the ground, and after shouting "Here you are!" continued his flight and disappeared through the weeds and into the woods at the outskirts of the city. The police were notified and gave chase, but after scouring the surrounding country returned without having captured either of the rob-

ELWOOD, Ind., July 11 .- "From this time ating the city garbage destructor. He left on the blanket remonstrances will positively be filed against every applicant to retail intoxicating liquor in the Second ward, and as soon as the remonstrances can be filled out the same action will be taken in the other wards of the city." This was the statement made this afternoon by one of the leading spirits in the Anti-crime League here, and indicates that Elwood is to become the storm center of anti-saloon activity in Madison county, for the present at > the renewal of Charles Payne, which will be heard by the County Commissioners at the August term. Most of the saloons are in the other three wards of the city, and it is in them that the fight will be most bitter. It is said that the respectable saloon element of the city is preparing to join hands with the anti-crime people in the extermination of a number of the disreputable dives, which have proved veritable hotbeds of crime, and which are said by the better ele- BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM until they called in a surgeon. ment among the liquor people to be responsible for the present crusade against the bustness as a whole. Third Victory for Antis.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., July 11.-For the third time within as many months the anti-saloon people have defeated the application of three separte applicants for license to operate the "Third-street Garden," a saloon fight which ended to-day before the County Commissioners was the bitterest yet waged, and much bad feeling has been engendered Over eighty of the signers of the blanket remonstrance were subpoenaed by the saloon men to testify before the commissioners as to their eligibility. So thorough had been the work of the "crusaders" that after two days' contest before the Board of Commissioners but four names out of a total of 195 were stricken from the remonstrance, and as a number in excess of a majority of the legal voters of the ward yet remained on the remonstrance a license was denied to Abraham Darnell, the applicant.

Saloon Men Routed at All Points.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., July 11.-After a three days' fight the County Commissioners have denied the application of three North Manchester saloonists for licenses. The Antisaloon League made this the first fight in the county and was successful. It now has a remonstrance containing the names of 70 per cent. of the voters of Chester township, with which it expects to rid the township of its ten saloons. The fight was a bitter one and the remonstrators introduced evidence to show that the saloon men had introduced bogus withdrawals from the remonstrances.

Matter of Equalization Still Agitating

People and Tax Board. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 11 .- As the result of steps taken by the County Tax Board of Review, after considerable agitation of the subject, the assessment of city and rural property in the county may be equalized by raising the figures on the farm real estate and decreasing the appraise-ment of city property. The increase in the valuation of farm land is planned to be from 12 to 15 per cent., while the corresponding reduction in the assessment of city property would be from 10 to 25 per cent. on a total of $12,000,000. This keeps the state tax at about the same figure. While the Board of Review was holding its final session last night a committee of forty prominent citizens, who are among the heaviest taxpayers in the city, made their appearance and asked that a 10 per cent. reduction be made on all city property. The board took no action, but it was learned today that the subject will be discussed and a decision reached later. At the meeting last night attorneys for the Monon, Wabash and Big Four railways appeared and asked that they be not compelled to pay for improvements of sidewalks along the right of way of the respective roads, claiming that they derived no benefit from the sidewalks. A legal contest is probable, as the city intends to force the railroads to pay for the improvement.

Ditch Construction Recommended. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ELWOOD, Ind., July 11.-As a result the legal tangles which the supporters and opponents of the Lily creek ditch, east of this city, have indulged in during the three years since the original petition was filed. the total cost of the improvement, which purposes the transformation of Lily creek into a big open ditch all the way through Boone township and partly across Vanburen, will cost more than $10,000. The viewers to-day completed their report on the ditch, and again recommend that it be constructed. The report will go to the county commissioners on Monday and, unless there are further legal clashes, work will be started at once.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 11.-By a vote of the majority of the members present at a meeting of the Trolley Men's Union the strike of conductors and motormen employed by the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company was declared off. The men will go back to work as individuals. The strike went into effect on May 15 because of the refusal of the company to grant the demands of the men for a flat scale of $2.25 for a day of ten hours, a rearrangement of schedule and recognition of the union. To these demands the company offered a counter proposal embodying a slight increase in wages and a new sched-ule, but this was not satisfactory to the

FREIGHT HANDLERS THREATEN TO QUIT MONDAY.

Say All Railways Must Refuse to Handle Freight Received from the Chicago & Alton.

CHICAGO, July 11 .- A strike of the freight handlers in the freight houses of all the railroads entering Chicago is probable on Monday morning unless the roads declare that they will not handle freight received from the Chicago & Alton road, There is no probability that the roads will refuse to do this, and the outlook to-night is for a strike unless the unions take action to-morrow that will prevent trouble,

For some weeks the freight handlers have been fighting the Alton road because two of their members were discharged for assaulting a fellow-employe. Other labor organizations declared that the freight hundlers were wrong in their attitude, and have refused to aid them in their strike. and their fight has been lost as far as the Alton road is concerned. President Curran, of the freight handlers, declared to-night that on Monday he would force all roads to refuse Alton freight or would call out all of their men. Twenty-two freight handlers were discharged to-day by the transfer association because they refused to handle freight that had been brought to the freighthouse in wagons driven by nonunion teamsters. The wagons came from the plant of the Kellogs Switchboard and Supply Company and were escorted by a large number of officers. The police had a hard time in getting the freight to the depot, and when it arrived the freight handlers refused to touch it. They were at once discharged and new men will be put in their places Monday. Several times the police were compelled to charge the crowds and to draw their revolvers. Three arrests were made The strike against the Kellogg company, which is at the foundation of all the trou-

Sorry for their former servant, who several days ago was arrested for the theff of numerous articles from the different homes in which she has had employment, Mr. and Mrs. John Candee Dean, Mrs. J. N. Hurty, Mrs. John R. Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Smith appeared in the Poice Court yesterday morning and asked Judge Whallon to be lenient with Ells Teny, who, it is said, had stolen articles from different families during the last year to the value of about $150. Ella Teny was arrested some time age by the city detectives, and in her room a She admitted her guilt and said that she had stolen the property of her employer because she enjoyed having fine things and could not afford to buy them.

As the girl had no attorney, Horace E Smith spoke a few words for her and asked in behalf of the girl's former employers, who were present, that the court dismiss her. The judge said that he was not satisfied that all the property stolen by the girl had been returned to its owners, but dismissed the young woman on probation for a week on condition that she locate the other things she had taken and turn them over to the court. She promised to do so and was released. Judge Whallon said the reason he was willing to allow the girl to go free was that her mother has been dead but two weeks and her aged father is now lying on
